EAST HAMPTON TOWN COMMITTEE WILL PLAN FOR SAFE REOPENING OF LOCAL BUSINESSES, ECONOMY

Supervisor Van Scoyoc and Councilwoman Sylvia Overby will work with local business leaders to develop recommendations, make plans for East Hampton

An initial committee meeting took place today. The group includes representatives of major industries in the town, including construction, hospitality, restaurant, retail, real estate, insurance, fitness, and the legal profession, along with a Chamber of Commerce representative, and will include a medical professional for epidemiological advice.

East Hampton Town's economy reopening committee will work to coordinate state guidelines and specific industry practices with any local measures needed to enable businesses and the economy to reopen and for people to get safely back to work.

A reopening plan will have to take into account the COVID-19 infection rate and progress that is being made against the spread of coronavirus, as well as the potential for a possible future resurgence of the disease.
